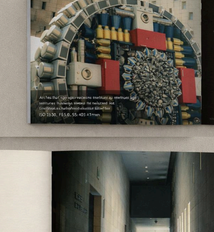
"A journey through stone, science, and story—where time stands still, and yet, never stops moving."

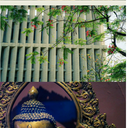


Art has the capacity to inspire, challenge, and even cultivate. It can also stimulate reflection, sparking conversations and fostering a deeper connection to the museum experience.

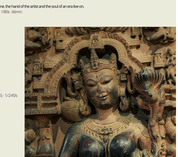
ISO 130, F5.6, 55-400 47mm

A journey through stone, science, and story—where time stands still, and yet, never stops moving.

ISO 100, F5.6, 55-119mm 47mm



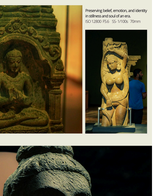
ISO 2000 F10.0 55- 1/640s 44mm



01 CARVED PERMANENCE

In every curve of stone, the hand of the artist and the soul of an era live on.

ISO 12800 F5.6 55-180s 90mm

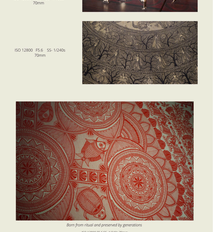


ISO 2000 F5.6 55- 1/240s 70mm

Preserving belief, emotion, and identity in stillness and out of an era.

ISO 12800 F55 55-1/100s 70mm

ISO 1600 F5.6 55-1/80s 70mm

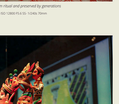


02 HANDS OF HERITAGE

Where time meets the hand

From tribal textiles to ceremonial pottery, culture endures in the warmth of hands across time—woven, painted, and stitched with meaning.

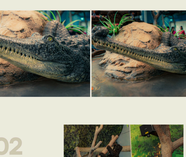
ISO 12800 F5.6 55-1/160s 70mm



ISO 12800 F5.6 55-1/240s 70mm

Born from ritual and preserved by generations

ISO 12800 F5.6 55-1/240s 70mm



Clay Kiln and Painted Tiles

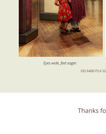
ISO 12800 F5.6 55-1/100s 70mm

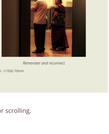
ISO 6400 F5.6 55- 1/160s 70mm

03 BONES AND BEAST

Preserved in glass and light, each vertebra, feather, and scale tells a story written long before language.

ISO 6400 F56 55- 1/50s 70mm





02 VISITOR PORTAITS

A museum is not just between generations—it creates a moment of memory, a wonder of species, in his quiet halls, shared stories allow the past, present, and future to meet.

Eyes wide, first eager.

Remember and reconnect.

ISO 6400 F5.6 55- 1/160s 70mm

Thanks for scrolling.